2. (a) Read the following passage and answer the questions : 10

The defects of the ordinary system of mass education are many as they may be briefly summarised as follows. First the system of teaching in large classes is rigid. No allowance is made for the peculiar mental constitution of the individual child, who is sacrificed to the average of the classes. The class and the fixed curriculum are like the bed of procrustes in the story. The child who is quick and talented in one subject but not in others is compelled under the current system of mass education to sacrifice their talents to their deficiencies. Thus a child may have a great talent for English

Unit-III

3. Write a precis of the given passage : 10

- (a) There is a fatal imbalance between what man is and what he wishes to be. This discord is responsible for our unrest. We talk like wise men but act like lunatics. We can not prepare for war and at the same time for a world community. We are tormented by inner uneasiness and pangs of conscience.

The warring sides of our nature require to be reconciled. If we are to defeat fratricidal tendencies in us, we must break our self-will, the pride of egoism which is widespread in all sides of our life. In man there is always an urge to self-transcendence, but until it becomes absolute unselfishness, narrow loyalties and destructive rivalries will prevail. The unrest in the world is a reflection of our inner disharmony.
